. . . And the Pieces Fall Together

BELOW: Orchestra sneaks in a quick rehearsal before a concert.

What is an empty building? Not much, but add some furniture and books, some teachers and students and pretty soon you have a complete picture. But is it really complete? Each year new things are being added, different people fill the halls with new faces, new teachers, and sometimes a new principal.

They're all pieces of the intricate puzzle that makes up Findlay High School.

Time goes on . . . and the pieces fall together.

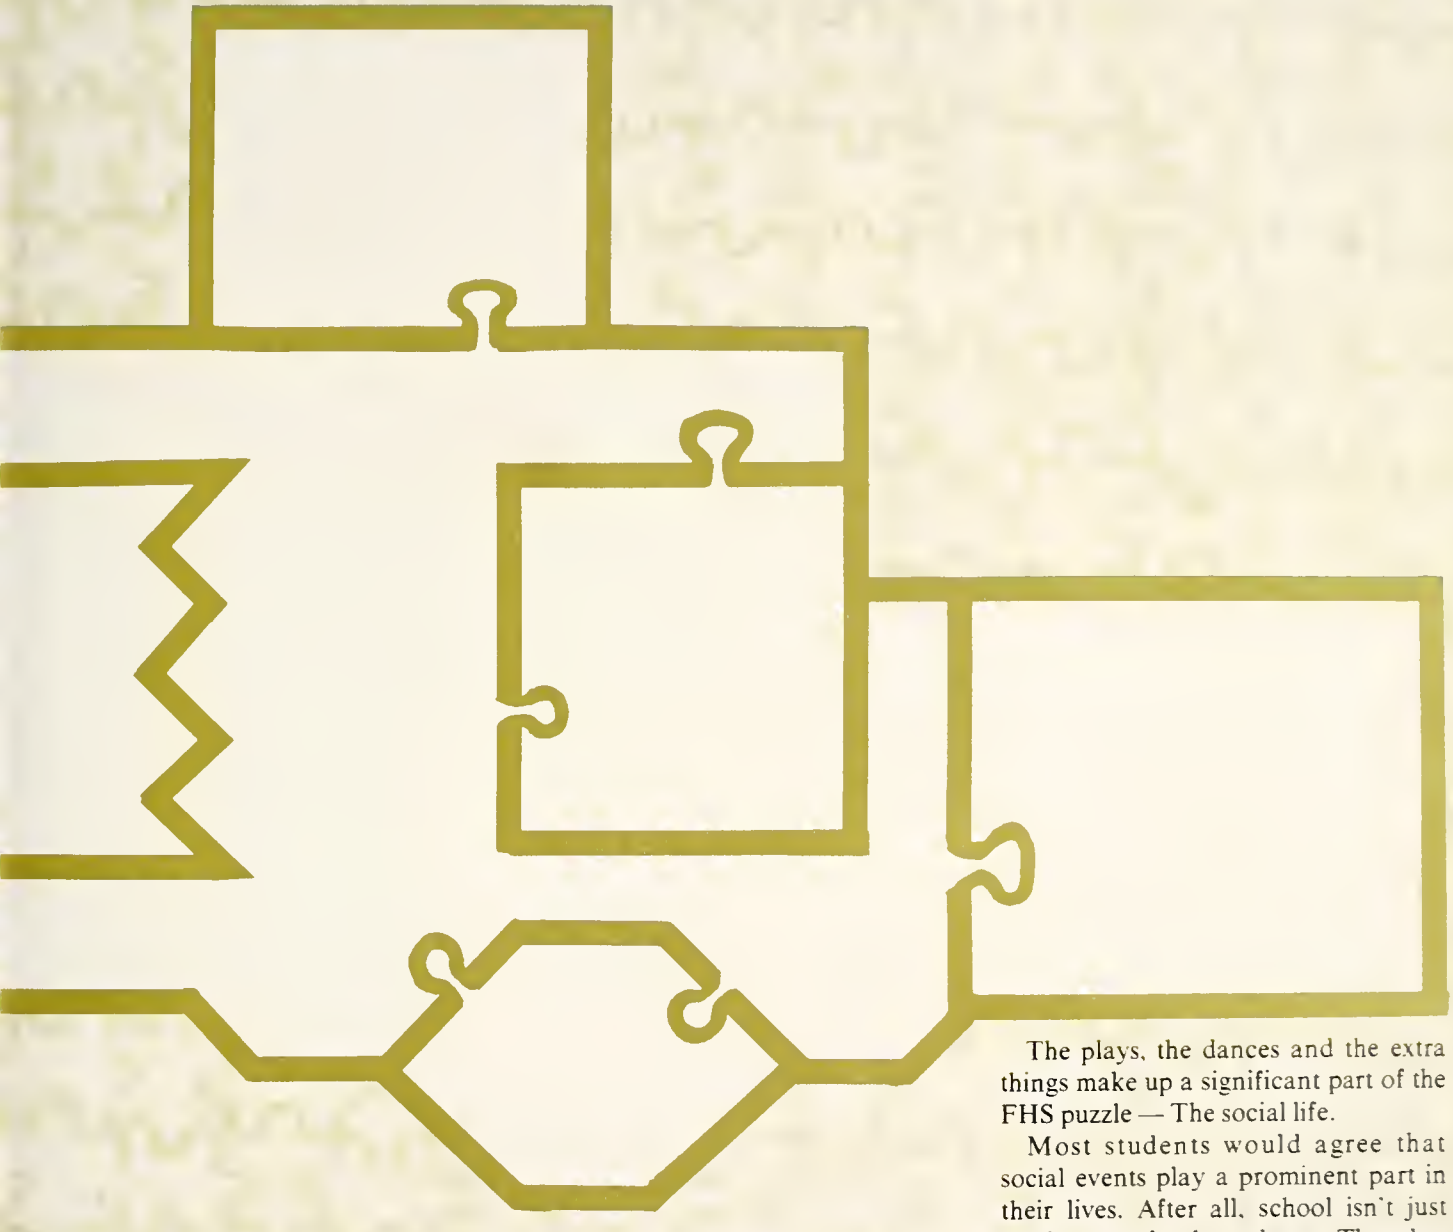
EVENTS



The plays, the dances and the extra things make up a significant part of the FHS puzzle — The social life.

Most students would agree that social events play a prominent part in their lives. After all, school isn't just teachers, textbooks and tests. There has to be a little relaxation somewhere and this is where it all fits in.

Muppet Mania Strikes FHS

News flash — Findlay High School, once peacefully settled in the NW corner of Ohio suddenly became afflicted with Muppet Mania. Signs of the mania first started appearing on posters in the halls around the school and then began spreading to classrooms, finally it spread to store windows of downtown. The mania reached its peak on a Friday night as the Muppets paraded down Main Street and on to the football field. The epidemic was cured on Saturday when all those afflicted met at the high school and danced the night away. Occasionally, even now, someone will ask, "Why are there so many songs about rainbows?"

Rejoice

The season opener for FHS theater was "Rejoice!" No, it wasn't a gospel recital. It was "a presentation of music, dancing, and one heck of a good time." The show was unique because it had no storyline. It was a collection of ten hits from Broadway shows, tied together by interludes. "West Side Story", "A Chorus Line," "Hair" and "Grease" were among the shows the songs were taken from. Another thing that made the show unique was that it was original, growing from ideas of senior Brad Boney who wrote, choreographed and directed it. Three seniors, two juniors and three sophomores made up the cast. Mark Wagner accompanied the group on the piano.

Witty dialogue, enchanting music, and sparkling characters made up this year's delight musical, THE PAJAMA GAME.

The problem of inflation is everywhere in today's world and even in this show. The employees asked for a 7½¢ raise which caused much discussion in the sewing factory. "Could we survive on a raise like this?"

The show takes place in Cedar Rapids, Iowa in the mid-1950's where a very strict factory operator keeps the business running by the stop watch procedure. Problems with the union representatives and each employee's responsibility in trying to advance ahead in their own game kept the musical very lively.

FHS students brought this operetta to life after many weeks of hard work. We always think of a "star" as the main characters on the stage. However, a "star" is also the people who work behind the scenes. Pounding nails, painting flats, and sawing wood is very necessary for the play to go on. We must give credit to all those who work diligently to make our annual musical a success.

For the directors: Barb Gebhardt, Fred Willford, Dave Hanson, Peg Firmin and Steve Froelich; FHS loves your shows and wants to see them for a long time to come.

Don't Tell a Lie

A wooden boy with a nose that grows? Come on! You can think of something more believable than that! But put the boy on an FHS stage, add more characters, a set, an audience and a touch of drama club magic and what do you have? PINOCCHIO! The magic of a puppet-turned into a boy — was brought to life this fall. Much to the delight of the children (and most adults) in the audience, the characters did plenty of running through the aisles. The audience enjoyed the show as much as the cast enjoyed performing it. With only a few problems in finding a growing nose, in everyone's opinion, the show was a success.

The Diary of Anne Frank

The Diary of Anne Frank, a dramatic play revealing the true story of eight remarkably brave Jewish people who spent three long years locked up in an attic to be safe from the Nazis in WW II, was performed on the FHS stage as the winter show. The play was portrayed as a flashback. The first scene took place in 1945 after the war. Mr. Frank came back to the attic for one last look before he left Amsterdam. While there he met the two people who had been their outside help during the time they were in hiding. They showed him Anne's diary and he began reading it. The three years described in the diary were relived on stage.

The play was moving and dramatic, a serious challenge for the students portraying the characters.

To the director, Judi Griffin, the show was a success even though there were some trying times. As always, "the show must go on."

Save Me a Dream

"Save Me A Dream," the theme of the winter formal, enhanced the cafeteria with the feeling of dreamland. The crystal ball, revolving in the center, sparkled throughout the cafeteria creating a mood for dancing. A fountain provided a relaxed setting for those exhausted from dancing to the sound of "Storm."

Refreshments of chocolate and white cake were available along with punch and mints. Adorning each table were champagne glasses containing a fresh white carnation with evergreen sprigs.

Students danced and danced and when the clock struck midnight, the winter formal was turned into a dream to be saved forever.

Amazing

The second annual Psychology Fair was a successful education experience for all who took part. The event was conducted by Mrs. Bev Fisher's psychology and Quest classes along with the help of the psychology department at BGSU, Findlay College and Ohio Northern University. In addition much community and school support was evident.

The students learned much from working in groups, selecting and researching their topics, drawing upon all the available resources, building a display area or booth, coming up with an activity or experiment which would illustrate the concept or principle from their psychology textbook, and lastly processing the data and their experience.

When the doors opened in the morning for the one day and evening event, students, teachers and community people were there to support it. Over 1,000 people attended including classes of elementary students and a senior citizens group.

The purpose of the fair was to acquaint people with the field of psychology in relevant ways by actually providing "hands on" experiences in a carnival like atmosphere conducive to "learning by doing."

ANNUAL FINDLAY HIGH ART EXHIBIT

Talent Shines Out

For the third year in a row, FHS has been able to provide the students with a fine arts week during the spring of the school year.

At the beginning of the week, the art department displays their works of art in the office hallway and in the principal's office, a display of crafts and jewelry.

As the students strolled down the hallway, they looked at all the talent that is in the students of Findlay. Items such as oil paintings, charcoal drawings and water color adorned the display.

As the week progressed students were able to attend a stage band performance, choir concert and an orchestra recital. On Wednesday the students of the drama department displayed their talent by putting on the one-act plays that were both written and directed by students.

On Thursday, the potter's olympics were held, but due to rain, the event had to be held in the gymnasium. Two colleges and two high schools participated in the events.

Fine Arts Week is a great happening at FHS for faculty and students, and every year this special week is held — it gets better and better.

A Toast to Theatre

"A Toäst to Theatre" was this year's spring One-Acts put on by Mrs. Barbara Gebhardt's directing class.

Each student director chose their own cast and followed rehearsals through until the final production.

Many hours spent in the classroom and on stage rehearsing during the spring proved to be well worth the time spent.

The plays are always well worth the time spent. The plays are always well done and seem to be very professional. Costumes, make-up and props set the stage for each individual play which took place.

The second year of breaking tradition for the prom was a success again when the juniors planned the "Once Upon a Starlit Night."

Findlay Country Club was the sight of a beautiful evening when the students began arriving in their tuxedos and formal attire to dance to the sound of "High Society."

Memory lane was featured again with photographs lining the hallway to the refreshments room where you could sit down, relax and talk to friends while resting their tired aching feet.

The weather was chilly but there were still some that ventured the outdoor cafe where pictures of couples were taken.

The evening was wonderful, but time flies by so fast and before you knew it, the "Starlit Night" was a reality.

Post-prom goers had a little different experience this year. While at the driving range and loading and unloading buses, students had to dodge the heavy raindrops that fell during the wee hours of the morning.

Approximately 250 students attended the post-prom activities which started at the high school at 12:30 a.m. with a midnight supper of sloppy joes, potato chips, and pepsi. About 1:00 a.m. the eight buses pulled up in front of the building and the students rushed out to board their appropriate bus for one of the planned activities.

Group 1 and 2, saw "The Coal Miners Daughter" at Cinema World while Groups 3 and 4 went to the driving range in the rain and Timber Lanes to bowl down a few pins. Group 2 was the only one that was rained out at the driving range at 4:45 in the morning so the sleepy group was first to return to the high school for milk and donuts.

Besides a little rain and a few sleepy eyes, the post prom was reality for another year.

Today We Follow, Tomorrow We Lead

And the rain poured down. It is quite possible that over 2000 people in the city of Findlay were hoping and praying for a bright sunny day on Sunday June 1, 1980. That didn't make any difference, the rain kept coming, tornado watches went up and the announcement was made that commencement exercises for the class of 1980 would be held in the FHS gymnasium. This was the first time in seven years that graduation was held indoors and only the second time since 1968 when the tradition of outdoor graduation was instated. To the students, however, graduation was graduation and wherever it was held they were going to be there. At precisely 4:00 an alternating flow of blue and gold entered into the gymnasium to let the 108th FHS commencement exercises begin. It seemed almost ironic that by that time the sun was out and shining beautifully.

Over 560 seniors received their diplomas on this long awaited day. The class Valedictorian was Miss Elizabeth Ann Hards and the class Salutatorian was Miss Gwyneth Lee Evans. The invocation and benediction was given by Rev. John Hayner of Trinity Lutheran Church. Father Frank Kehres from St. Michael's Catholic Church delivered the message, "Challenge of Tomorrow."

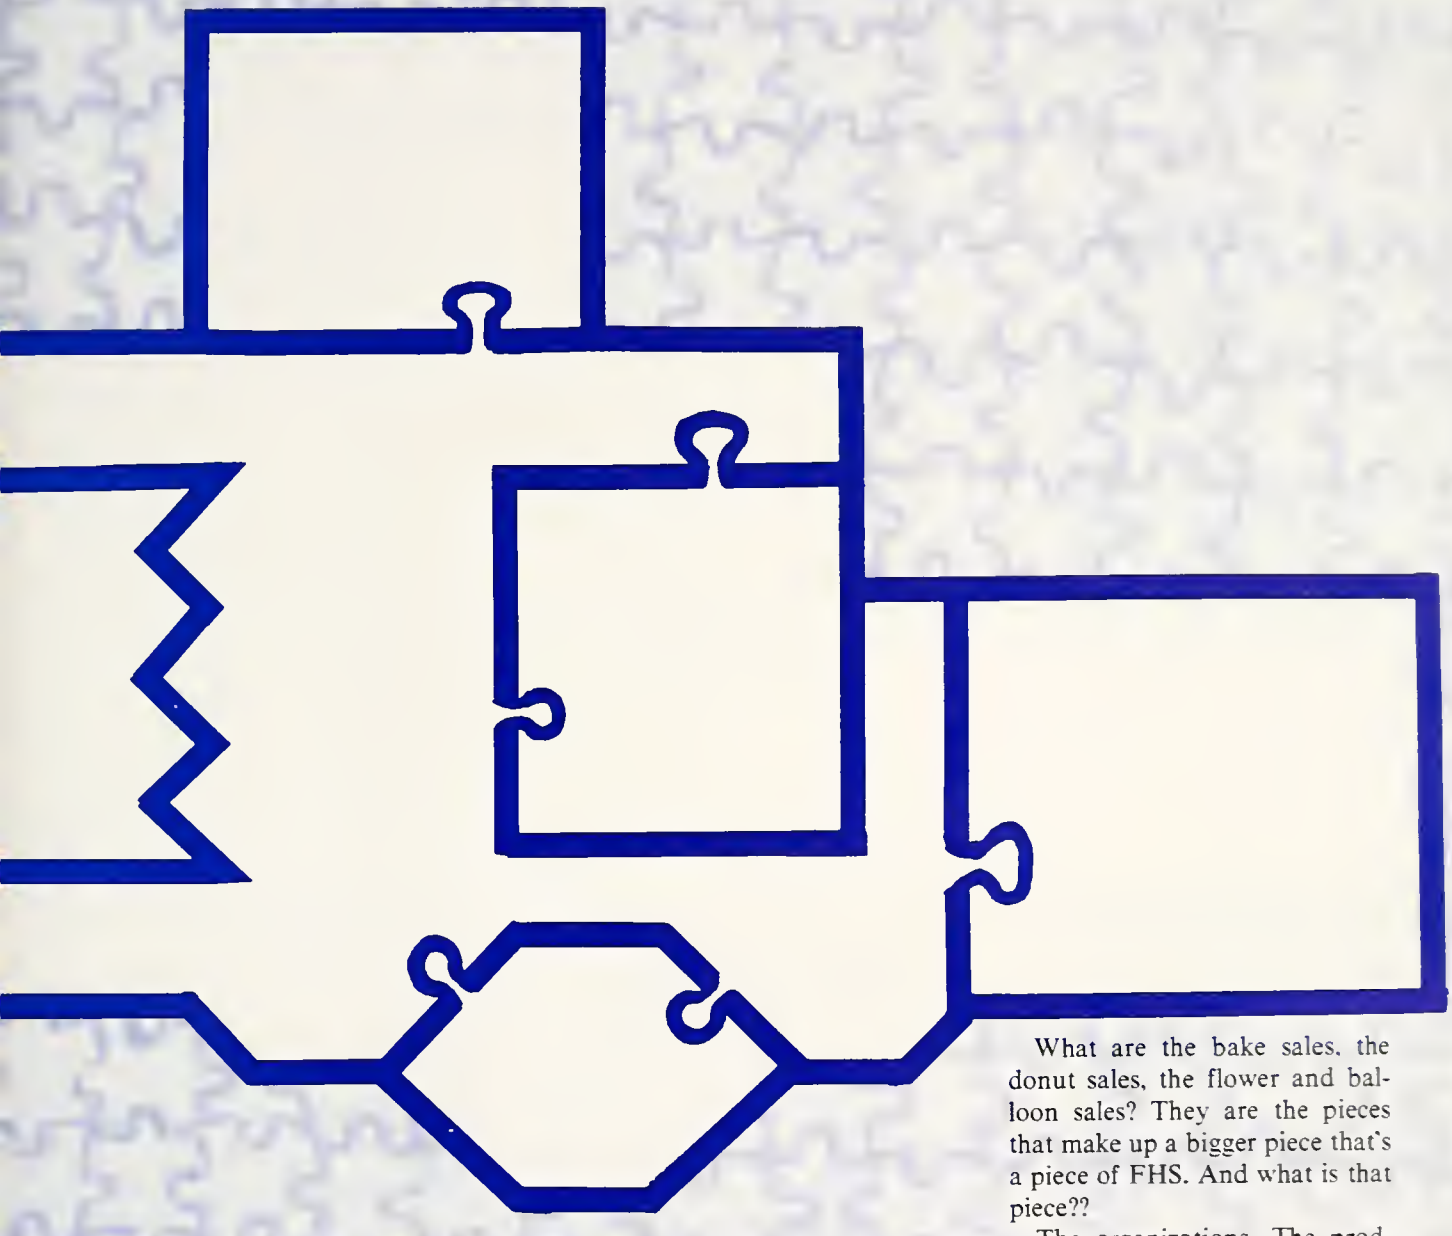
INVOLVEMENTS



What are the bake sales, the donut sales, the flower and balloon sales? They are the pieces that make up a bigger piece that's a piece of FHS. And what is that piece??

The organizations. The products of long hours of hard work put in by FHS students. Many organizations involved future careers. This is where the future and the present begin to interlock.

And we're off — 8:47 a.m. on December 11, 98 orchestra members, directors, and chaperones left FHS in a state of anticipation and excitement.

The 33rd annual Mid-West National Band and Orchestra Clinic held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, Illinois was the destination.

Only 140 miles to go and then at last, the Chicago skyline was visible. "Almost there!" "There's the Sears Tower and the Hancock Building," "Oh wow, we're going under and through the post office," students remarked. Here we are, the Conrad Hilton, what a ride!

Once inside, the time table began. "You have one hour till rehearsal," said Mr. Hanson. Up the elevators to the ninth floor — then back down to the rehearsal room.

After practice, the chaperones escorted about 75 people downtown to the Water Tower Place — a 7 story shopping mall with glass elevators. What an experience!

The next day was the big event. FHS performed for hundreds of directors in the Grand Ballroom. The sound filled this giant room with sweet music. Sounds of Jubilee, March of the Scaffold, and the Nutcracker were just a few of the arrangements. After their great performance, it was off to the dinner theatre to see South Pacific.

The third day arrived and it seemed like about two weeks worth of items put into three exciting days and then it came to an end. With a side trip to the Museum of Science and Industry on the way home, a three day excursion was almost over for the FHS orchestra — one of the top three orchestras in the United States to be chosen to perform in Chicago.

A sense of spirit and pride was evident over the marching band this year as the sophomores became a part of it.

In between the band shows, one could hear various fight songs floating across the field. Flags would wave, instruments blasting, and batons being thrown in the air during the half time at each home game. The band also performed at two "on the road" games. Due to a strike in the Cleveland schools, the regularly scheduled trip to Lorain Senior was canceled and that game was held at Donnell Stadium.

Other attractions were the Hancock County Fair, Marching Band Festival and many parades through downtown.

The new addition to the band was the 21 team flag corp — The Trojanettes. With their sharp blue and white uniforms and flags, the fans were overwhelmed by their precision.

Because of constant laboring over this band, Mr. Richard Kondik with his assistant Mr. James Mitchell, made it possible for the band to do many different maneuvers and difficult songs which came off very well.

A new Face, a New Sound

Every year there are new faces in choir but this year the new face was noticed a bit more than usual. That's because it belonged to Mr. Fred Willford the new choir director. Bringing with him experience from Donnell Junior High, Mr. Willford jumped right in to assume his new duties. His animation in directing the chior made the students sit up and take notice. The choir had a fall concert, a Christmas concert, a spring concert and made up the cast and chorus of the musical, "The Pajama Game" and that's just to name a few.

Tops in the Nation

"The Cookie Monster says that the Trojans are the great big cookies at the top of the jar. The Cookie Monster says that the opponents are the itty bitty crumbs at the bottom of the jar." This was just one of the many cheers the girls created during the season.

Cheerleaders are always thought of as some of the most popular girls of the school. Our cheerleaders are no exception! They are also talented which was proven by placing 9th in the nation.

The cheerleaders' motto was "Practice Makes Perfect." Every night after school, hours were spent making signs, learning new cheers, and preparing run-through signs for each home game during football and basketball.

To be a cheerleader, one must have a lot of school spirit, stamina, and a sense of responsibility to endure all the work that is required.

Eight-to-five with a pivot to the right and a pivot to the left! Right shoulder arms . . .

The flag corps' seductive beat began with a spectacular fortissimo this year. The group of girls that were seen maneuvering their flags around the field at pre-game and half-time during the football games were a new addition to the band's marching season performances. Practice lasted through ninth period and an hour more, making these girls quite good.

After football season was over, this organization did not stop practicing. They just moved indoors to prepare for basketball season. At this time, they became the award winning drill team which not only won many coveted awards from competitions located all around Ohio, but entertained the basketball audiences with a spirit not seen in many organizations.

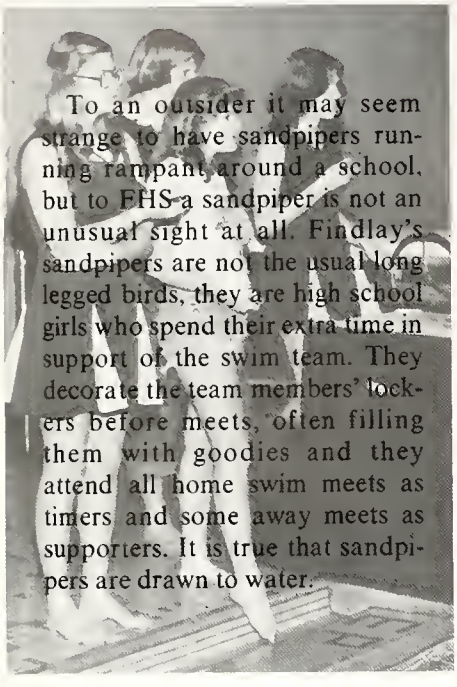
Drawn to Water



To an outsider it may seem strange to have sandpipers running rampant around a school, but to FHS a sandpiper is not an unusual sight at all. Findlay's sandpipers are not the usual long legged birds, they are high school girls who spend their extra time in support of the swim team. They decorate the team members' lockers before meets, often filling them with goodies and they attend all home swim meets as timers and some away meets as supporters. It is true that sandpipers are drawn to water.

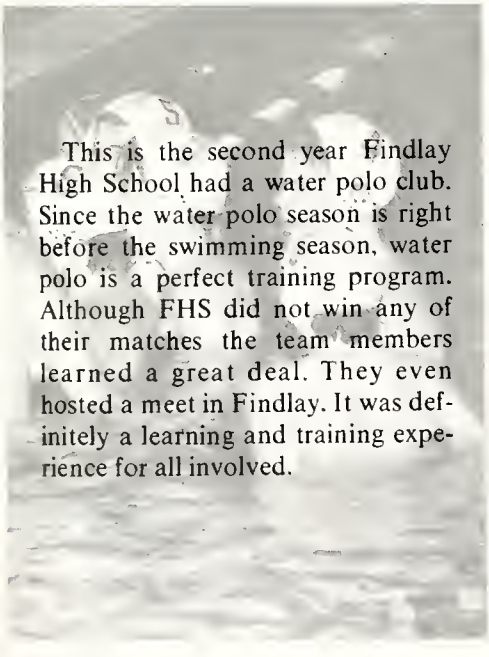
Polo Without Horses



This is the second year Findlay High School had a water polo club. Since the water polo season is right before the swimming season, water polo is a perfect training program. Although FHS did not win any of their matches the team members learned a great deal. They even hosted a meet in Findlay. It was definitely a learning and training experience for all involved.

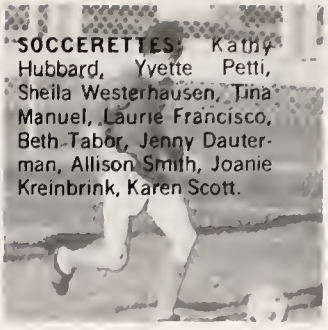
What is a soccerette?? You might catch a stray soccer ball that was kicked out of bounds, help hold the run-through signs at the beginning of each home game, or you just might help cheer on the Trojans to victory. These are just a few of the activities the girls do for the organization. During the regular playing season, the boys find their lockers decorated and inside many goodies like cookies, chips, and candy can be found to stave them off from hunger in between classes. The soccerettes work hard to earn their money by holding car washes and bake sales.



SOCCERETTES: Kathy Hubbard, Yvette Petti, Sheila Westerhausen, Tina Manuel, Laurie Francisco, Beth Tabor, Jenny Dauterman, Allison Smith, Joanie Kreinbrink, Karen Scott.

Keeping stats takes concentration. Linda Fekete, Izzie Kurpanik, Shelly Weist, and Deb Ebersole enjoy their jobs.

Hitting a referee with a rolled up towel, watching the time clock, keeping stats, or scoring the points and pins are just a few of the jobs performed by the Wrestlerettes. These girls show their dedication by cheering the Trojans on to victory at both home and away meets. To raise money, a rock-a-thon, car washes, and many bake sales were held.

Spirit & Pepper Clubs Promote School Spirit

Three cheers for the spirit and pepper clubs. After all, they do spend a lot of time cheering on all the Findlay High School football and basketball teams. In addition to rooting for the guys on the field at games they also decorated lockers, sold badges, pom-pons and bumper stickers and decorated the halls with spirit signs.

Girls Get a Kick Out of Soccer

The girls soccer club was the subject of a great deal of discussion early in the season. Unfortunately it was impossible to give the team varsity status this year. Nevertheless, the girls spirit undaunted went on to a very successful as well as enjoyable season. They showed the dedication and characteristics of true sportsmanlikeship.

Student Council Sets New Goals

Aiding the students is the main goal of the student government of FHS. They bring community service projects as well as student oriented events to the school. Some of the activities undertaken this year were delivering poinsettias to Findlay area shutins, providing needy families with complete Thanksgiving dinners and helping to give one of our own students, Deb Long, a Merry Christmas by presenting her with a stereo.

After the game dances, sponsored by the Junior Class Council, helped raise money for the prom. Many other dances including the Winter Formal, Homecoming and a sophomore orientation dance were given for the enjoyment of our student body.

Money was also raised through the concession stand on the student side at Donnell Stadium during the football season.

Input from the student body is necessary in order for the councils to have a clearer view of what the students really want from their government.

What Is NHS?

What is National Honor Society? Well, it's an organization that honors students with a 3.3 or better grade point average and a variety of extra-curricular activities. In the spring of a student's junior year he may apply to NHS, his application is then reviewed by a panel of teachers and finally there is an induction held. Past members of NHS hold the ceremony in front of principals and parents of the new inductees. As for what the organization does there isn't much. Since each student that is in NHS is there because he is involved in extra-curricular activities there isn't much time for drawn out projects. NHS is truly an honor society.

Elbows, Nose, Anything Goes

The Crafty Critters presented "The Potters Olympics" on May 8 in the Findlay High School gymnasium. This organization was formed because of the educational experience for students and gives them a chance to compete, have fun, and most of all, a chance to meet other people interested in clay.

Events began running at 9:40 with the Tallest Pot, No Hands Throwing, Longest Pulled Handle, Blindfold Throwing, Small Pot Production Throwing, Largest Diameter and finally the Biggest Overall Pot.

This group strives on team competition with awards being presented for the most total points accumulated after the seven events.

If you have never thrown a pot, or watched anyone work with clay, you might say, "who wants to get their hands dirty," but for this group of students, it is a hobby.

COE Serves Community

Students enrolled in the Cooperative Office Education Program get a taste of what things are really like in the working world even before graduation. In addition to in-school instruction dealing with office related skills, they hold office positions in community businesses chosen as centers for on-the-job training.

In addition to the regular activities of the C.O.E. club, students participated in contests held in Columbus.

C.O.E.: Shawn Cummings, Sheila Shelley, Terry Williams, Cindy Heitmeyer, Penny Davis, Cindy Zoll, Melanie Bosserman, Jill Connolly, Barbara Mueller, Kim Iliff, Cheryl Long, Melody Greeno, Jackie Radabaugh, Joyce Baldridge, Beth Lucas, Cherry Gutierrez, Karen Simmons, Tina Crowder, Ann Youngpeter, Tina Groves, Julie Woodruff, Jackie Tesnow, Tina Vogelsong, Vickie Pauline, Lorrie Muzy, Deb Shilling, Julie Nowicki, Mr. Philipp and Mr. Wohlgamuth, Advisers.

Intensive Skills

One of the rooms on the first floor of the academic wing is more than just an ordinary classroom. It is our fully equipped office education lab, where we find students participating in the Intensive Office Education program. Here, they spend four periods a day developing skills related to office work such as typing, filing and working on all kinds of business machines. Upon graduation, the students are ready to begin work in a responsible office position.

Visual Aids Visualize

The Media Center located on the second floor provides students and teachers with many different pieces of equipment for either lesson plans or research.

The new guidance computer is located here which provides students with information they are seeking on possible colleges to attend upon graduation.

Students give up their study halls to provide delivery service to classrooms during the times the teachers have signed-out equipment. This is a well-equipped center for everyone to take advantage of. Without the helpers to keep inventories, Mrs. DeIulius would find it hard to manage all of the duties in the Media Center.

The Library is under the guidance of Mrs. Hardesty. She provides special classroom sessions, research availability, and extra help when there is an English composition due.

Without a library, students would not be able to read, without reading, our world could not learn, and without learning, where would we be today. FHS takes pride in both centers and appreciate what both ladies do for it.

"You Are Somebody"

What does DECA stand for? The students involved are very active with the bookstore and selling items, but what do they really do, and what does DECA mean?

DECA stands for distributive education classes of America, and what they do is simple. The students enrolled in this program study the business world. They learn the techniques, and then they actually apply them to various jobs. Some of these jobs are food services, home selling, retailing and much much more. To top off the co-op program, DECA students can exhibit their talents while competing with students all over the nation in their specific fields.

Prepare for Leadership

"Prepare for leadership in the world of work," is the motto of the VICA organization which stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America.

With over 175 members in this group, students are enrolled in courses ranging from automotives, carpentry, electronics, machine shop, and welding.

One of the projects that took place this year was painting house numbers on curbs to help local emergency groups locate houses faster.

The VICA groups do many many projects that help to promote this organization to its fullest.

Off the Wall

Graffiti? Isn't that writing on walls? Well, yes, but it is also the name of Findlay High School's student magazine. Graffitti publishes student essays, poems and artwork. The 25 page publication comes out twice a year and features writings by sophomores, juniors and seniors. Each issue has a different cover drawn by a student. The staff welcomes any submissions from any student whether or not they are enrolled in an English class.

The track team does not exist on runners alone. Not by any means. There are also field participants right? But even more than that there are the track stats. The girls who keep a record of the times, hold the ribbons and even participate in the clockings. These girls are an integral part of the track team.

All the World's a Stage

To get up on a stage in front of lots of people takes a certain type of personality. Among the Spammers, (as the Drama Clubbers also call themselves) are a variety of personalities as wide in range as the roles they play, yet with that one common quality: love for the stage. The group's mascot /hero, Spam (yes, that is the brand of canned ham often appears in their newsletter, the Armour Star.

The Thespians all belong to the International Thespian Society. It is an honorary group whose members have all earned a specific number of points for work in the theatre.

Reporters Speak Out

What does Findlay High School have that no other high school has? Why the Blue and Gold newspaper of course. The student publication is self-supporting by getting advertisements from community businesses. The bi-weekly publication covers topics of interest to the students and events that are happening in the school. Included are concert, book, album and film reviews. This year these sparked a great deal of interest among the student body and the "Letters to the Editor" column got an immense amount of use. No one can say that FHS students ignore their publication.

The Trojan. Everyone in Findlay High School knows what a Trojan is but The Trojan is the name of Findlay's yearbook and has been for the past 42 years (since 1938). The staff spends the year making a photographic diary of the high school's events and highlights of the year. Then as a supplement to the pictures there is a short article to describe the one or two pages. In years to come people can look at their yearbooks, recognize old faces and refresh their memories.

The pieces really do fall together.

Ladies of the Records

Ready, set, go . . . they're off! It's not the track team or the cross country team, even though it might seem like it at times. They are the office runners. With various jobs being done for the secretaries and principals, they do such things as decorating the offices, taking messages around to classrooms and delivering attendance cards.

The people who send these track stars on their errands are our office personnel. They are the ladies who make sure everyone is accounted for in class, organize grade cards and I.D.'s and take care of all the principal's business dealings. These ladies have put in 71 years for good ol' FHS.

DONNA MONDAY: She just started her first year during the 1979-80 school year.

Take It to the Halls With TTV

Lights, cameras, action might not be the setting around FHS like Television City in California but TROJAN TV is becoming stronger every year.

Students in the broadcasting class provide all the material, talent and production time for their specials. Such shows as the theater productions, basketball games, and a new show called "Minute by Minute" were just a few of the tapings TTV produced. This latest show took place in the FHS halls and taped the students comments.

TTV went on the tourney trail with the basketball team but due to financial problems, they had to stop after the sectionals with Lima Senior.

The students are very determined and spend many hours setting up equipment, taping and then taking down the equipment. They even go out after their own advertisers. Who knows, Trojan Television may become very famous in the near future.

FHS Welcomes Foreign Friends

AFS and YFU are organizations that were founded for the purpose of better inter-cultural understanding. It seems that their goals are working because of the success it has shown not only at our school, but throughout the entire world.

This year, FHS has had the privilege of being hosts to five foreign friends. We welcome all of our guests with open arms and hope Findlay High School will continue these programs in the future.

These questions were asked to each student and their answer appears in both English and their own foreign written language. What have you thought of Findlay in this past year? What do you find most different between your country and the United States?

HERE ARE THEIR ANSWERS: Micky Statle — Findlay has good and bad sides. I liked and disliked it, but it was my home for a year. The busy American society and all the fast-food restaurants were most different from what I was used to. Kati Suurmunne — The town in Finland where I live is twice as big as Findlay and because of that also our lifestyle is someway much slower than here. All the people here, both in High School and in other places, have been so nice and friendly that I know it'll be hard to say goodbye but I hope I'll be able to meet them probably in Findlay some other time. Two probably most different things here are food and school; American food is good but as I fould out also very fattening (We don't eat sandwiches as meals). The whole school system here is different, so the students in my age are already in jr. college which of course requires more studying (however, I didn't have anything against this "lazier" year here). Tomoko Yamamoto — Findlay has almost same population of my city in Japan. Though you have wide road with trees, every house has garden with grasses. My city is much more crowded. I like to go through the main street. It's one of the prettiest ones. Every street has its own name. In Japan, we don't name the street. It was very nice to stay here and get to know many people. I've got many friends and I don't want to say goodbye. Instead of saying it, I like to say, "I'll come back to see you someday, o.k.?" The students in United States get more freedom than we get in Japan. For example, no uniform, going out at night. Usually students in Japan don't go out at night. A lot of students here have jobs to get money for college. In my country few students have them. Many people here go to church. In Japan most people don't. In U.S.A. church has the big effect on your life. Nicole Recourt — Coming from a little town, I found Findlay very big and spread out. The social life is very animated here, which gave me the chance to participate in various activities. I met a lot of people and I found them always nice with me. I can say I spent a wonderful and unforgettable year here in Findlay. There are so many differences between our two countries. But I think that the most important ones would be school. Our school system is much more academic and we don't have any extra-curricular activities. Food is also different. We don't have fast-food restaurants and all of our meals are still spent with the whole family. I have been really surprised as for the importance of religion and the large number of people that go to church. Marcela Alvarez — My first impression of Findlay was that it was much larger than it really is because of the way it is spread out so much more than our cities in Argentina, but now I see it as a small conservative city, with people very friendly and with a good American life type. I have enjoyed my year of living here. The school system in Argentina is structured differently and is much more disciplines; there are not so many extra-curricular activities with the school, but there are more things to do at night and we have parties almost every weekend; we eat four meals a day and use more meat and more natural foods. Also religion seems to be more important to the people I've met in the U.S. than it is to most people in Argentina.

MICKY STATLE

Findlay har sine gode og dårlige sider. Jeg likte og mislikte byen, men den var mitt hjem for et år.

Det kapitalistiske system og "pengejaget" var ulikt. Andre ting var amerikansk tv, alle gatekjøkken og skolen.

MARCELA ALVAREZ

Mi primera impresion acerca de Findley fue que esta era una enorme ciudad mas de lo que esto es realmente, debido a la forma en que esta levantada, mucho mas abiertamente esparcida que las ciudades en Argentina, pero ahora la veo como una ciudad pequeña y conservativa con personas muy amigables y con una buena representacion de vida Americana en la cual yo he disfrutado mi estadia.

El sistema escolar en mi pais esta estructurado en forma diferente y con mucha mas disciplina. En nuestras escuelas nosotros no tenemos tantas actividades extra curriculares, pero por la noche tenemos mas cosas que hacer, fiestas, reuniones, etc. Nosotros tenemos cuatro comidas diarias. Nuestros menus poseen mas variedad de carne y cosas mas naturales.

Religion en mi pais es importante, pero no tan importante como lo es en Estados Unidos especialmente Findlay

NICOLE RECOURT

Venant d'une petite ville, j'ai trouvé Findlay très grande et étendue. La vie sociale y est très animée, ce qui m'a permis de participer à de nombreuses activités. J'ai rencontré beaucoup de gens et je les ai toujours trouvés très gentils avec moi. Je peux dire que j'ai passé une merveilleuse et inoubliable année, ici, à Findlay.

Il y a tellement de différences entre nos 2 pays. Mais je pense que les plus importantes seraient l'école. Notre système scolaire est beaucoup plus académique et nous n'avons aucune activité extra-scolaire. L'esprit d'école n'y est pas si fort. La nourriture est aussi différente. Nous n'avons pas ces restaurants "service rapide" et tous nos repas se passent encore avec la famille au complet. J'ai été vraiment surprise quant à l'importance de la religion et le nombre des personnes qui vont à l'église.

Findlay comes from behind to win! Trojans triumph! FHS straight to state! Excitement! Adventure! Challenge! That's what this piece of FHS is. The thrill of competition. The fight for number one. The desire and hard work that goes into shooting for top spot fit together to create the athletic piece of the FHS puzzle.

Cold weather, rain, and a little snow this year made the soccer season very interesting. Despite all of this, the Trojans went undefeated through their regular season, all the playoffs and then made it to STATE.

A short practice session on the Toledo University artificial turf got the Trojans ready for the semi finals in Dayton. Rain and cold weather dampened the turf until it was saturated. Down to the last few seconds, Chip Autieri kicked one in and the Trojans were in the final playoff on Saturday.

Unfortunately, the team remained the runners up but brought home a beautiful trophy for the display case to remind FHS of how great Mr. Laux's soccer team was in the year 1979.

Female Racqueteers Have Rebuilding Season

With only one letterman and one senior on the team, Coach Bev Fisher said that this was to be a building year. Surprisingly, though, the girls' tennis team had a pretty good showing.

Because of many hours of practice which included drills and drills and even more drills, they compiled a 9-5 record.

One of the major things that kept the team going was unity and spirit (and cookies!) The girls were third in the Buckeye, only missing second by two points on the tennis court.

Another Year for the Buckeye

Birdies, Eagles and Bogies seem to be common language around the golf course, but if you aren't familiar with these terms, maybe a putter, iron, or driver seem easier to understand.

For the Trojans Golf team, undefeated is a more important term this season. For the past six years, that golf has been varsity sport, FHS has received the Buckeye crown five times.

The strength lies in team support. Not too many spectators watch the Trojans in their winning season, but with a record of 13-8-1, this makes them better than average.

Maybe someday, hundreds of people will begin watching the golf team and realize the importance of this sport to these students.

For Coach Tom Reynolds, the love of golf will never disappear. He will just keep building more undefeated seasons.

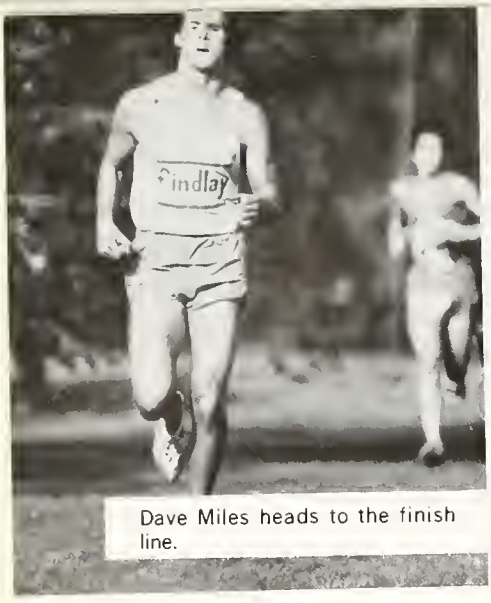
AAA Invitational Crown and Buckeye Conference Now in the Record Books



Dave Miles heads to the finish line.

"Our record speaks for itself," says Coach John Didich. Winning the Buckeye Conference and coming in second in the sectionals proves that the team worked very hard throughout the season.

With a runner like Paul Lashells who represented the Trojans in the state X-CC meet, you know you have a top team.

Sickness and injuries did not plague the Trojans too much this year and the weather even cooperated.

"Despite the last two meets, I feel the '79 Cross Country team is one of the best teams in the State of Ohio," remarked Mr. Didich at the banquet.

Trojans Spike it to a 15-5 Season

Many hours of practice were spent in the gymnasium spiking that volleyball back and forth across the nets.

It paid off — a season of 15-5 proved that practice makes perfect. The Trojans were unable to go very far in tournament action this year, but according to coach Dick Wohlgamuth, the girls gave all their effort for a winning season. The fans turned out in small numbers, but the team gave each other the support that is needed to make any sport a success.

Building Season Makes Next Year Optimistic

Molding the team into one was a big job for Coach Wohlgamuth and his JV players.

About half-way through the volleyball season, the team became much closer and started to work as one unit.

The team finished the year with a record of 8 wins and 7 losses. On the starting JV team, there were three juniors and three sophomores.

As the season progressed, the attitudes improved — with the improved attitudes, next volleyball season will definitely be a good one.

Coach Wohlgamuth gives the girls strategic advice.

Bumps, bruises, banged knees, and broken fingers all make up a season of football. The weather this year did not hinder in any way.

Coach Bill Jones tried to get full utilization of every player by teaching all players an offensive and defensive position, "but as the game goes along we have the flexibility to rest people and use them where we want to." This strategy worked fine, but the Trojans seemed to be plagued with injuries this year which only placed them 5th in the Buckeye. In only one on the road game, five players were injured on the field, but after a short rest they were back to full strength.

Many games were only lost by one point, but the boys never gave up until the game was over. What they may have lacked in ability they made up in spirit and determination. The Trojans play some of the toughest teams in the State of Ohio.

All but for the seniors graduating, the team will be rebuilding and planning for future years.

Low attendance, Saturday morning games and sometimes a messy field did not hinder the J.V. team in anyway of reaching a 3rd place in the Buckeye Conference and a 6-4 season.

Preparing the boys for the varsity team is the goal of the JV coaches. Hard work during the summer and a grinding, tackling season achieves this goal.

The Trojans work very hard for 3 months: two weeks of rough practice in the summer, 2½ months of after school practice and every Saturday morning a game to show their abilities.

A sense of pride is always in the minds of an athlete to be fortunate enough to have the ability it takes to withstand the pressures of a football season.

Young Blades Find Tough Skating

Despite many hat tricks, assists from other players and many power-play goals, the Trojans found very tough skating this year. After being state champs in 1977 and runner-ups in 1978, the team was busy training sophomores and used the year as a rebuilding one. There were only three seniors this past year.

The team worked best while under pressure as was proven in tournament action. Having lost to Centerville twice in regular season play (former Mentor Keith Herring) the FHS icers upset the defending state champs by a score of 6-1. The boys went into tourney action with a 3-16 record. Coach Mike Root said, "We hustled and we skated well, but in my opinion, the big point was consistent goal tending. We HAD to stay out of the penalty box, also."

FHS went into the district play-off with St. Francis and this is where the season ended for the young blades.

With only one senior returning to the ice next year, the young skaters will be showing their experience and confidence towards a winning season.

Trojans Win Buckeye, Sectional and District Titles

A sold out gymnasium, the scene of the Buckeye Conference play-off between two of the top 10 AAA high schools was the highlight of the Trojan Basketball season. Findlay ranked 7th and LAK 8th proved to be an exciting Friday night.

The moments tense, pressure on every player, and finally the clock wound down to "0" and Coach Roger Renz had just taken his team to another BC crown — the second one in a row (9th since formation of the BC in 1954 for FHS).

Another thriller was the last regular season game against Fremont when FHS recorded the longest playing time in 74 years of Trojan BKB. Thirty-two minutes and four overtimes made a 44 minute game. With five minutes left in the regulation play, the Trojans were down by 11. But our never-say-die team shot back and won 72-70.

Tourney trail here we come. Elida was the first victim, then Lima Sr. for a sectional title. Mansfield Madison brought a near perfect game for the Trojans with another face-off with Marion Harding and District champs was surely on their mind — and it came true.

For the fourth time since the 1948 State Champs, the Trojans made an appearance in the regional games. However, here is where it ended for a season of great basketball. With only a four point deficit on the scoreboard when the clock ran out at Centennial Hall, the Trojans will always remember the good time they had together and their super record of 23-2.

1st Place Tie in B.C.

At the basketball banquet held at the end of the season, a quote was made by Coach Steve Dobbins. "Being a J.V. coach is one of the harder jobs when the varsity coach takes away your potentials in order to play them on the varsity team — it really hurts." Coach Roger Renz took Jamie Houdeshell for his team early in the season, so this left the Trojan JVers with one less shooting superstar.

However, the team did shine as they tied in the Buckeye Conference with a record of 14-4. With the Trojan roundballers working towards a spot on the varsity team, FHS can be proud of the type athletes they have.

Regionals — First Time for Gals

At last Findlay High School has a girls' basketball teams. Thirty to forty girls fighting to represent their school showed up. Miss Ruth Jenkins took on the task of shaping a very green team. In 1923, the gals only won one game with a score of 6-4 over Arcadia.

Now, 57 years later, the crowds have doubled, the fans more excited, a new coach, and a new crown to fit a winning team.

Coach William Lobb took on the job of coaching the gals to a 20-0 regular season and winning the Buckeye Conference crown for the first time since the girls' team was recognized as a varsity sport four years ago.

Then tournament action started. The victims were Defiance, Celina, Marion Harding, and Lexington, which then put the girls into the regional tournament for the first time in school history.

Toledo Whitmer was the next game to be played which FHS edged the Panthers by three points during regular season action, but this was the end for the Trojan gals bringing to them their first and only loss.

The girls did a super job and are commended for their effort. And to Coach Lobb — Terrific year!

Sailing down the floor with hopes of a beautiful layup shot was on the minds of every Trojan gal during the season.

One of the most exciting games of the season was the Delphos game where the JVers went into a 2nd overtime. The game was going fine until the girls just ran out of gas and were defeated by the Blue Jays.

Many gals lettered and will work extra hard for a spot on the varsity team next year.

The young female roundballers finished the season with a record of 11-8.

A Pinning Effort

A three count, a fall, a takedown, or a pin would be some of the items heard around the FHS gymnasium when there is a wrestling match going on.

The Trojans ended their season with a 11-7 record with three wrestlers placing first in the Buckeye Conference. When the team went to the state tournament, they placed an excellent 30th out of 113 teams.

Even though there is a weight difference of about 200 pounds between the heavy weight and light weight division on the team, the wrestlers put their all into this sport.

The JV team had a total of 13 members which included most sophomores.

Coach Hoppel remarked half way through the season, "We still are not wrestling real well as a team; we're not attacking our own teammates hard enough in practice. It has to be done in practice so you can do it out on the mat."

The Trojans did perform well throughout the season, and our team will continue to win on and on.

Coach Shoop gives some pointers to the wrestlers.

Gymnasts Perform With Nine Member Team

Kelly McAdoo concentrates on doing a perfect vault.

Shelly Scott gracefully completes her floor exercise.

Balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vault, and floor exercises are the events of a gymnast. A small team and the third coach in three years was part of the FHS gymnastics team. Judy Beck who came from New York, agreed to coach the team, and with her she brought new ideas. The team had the first optional meet for a Findlay team. Even though they did not win many meets, the team improved throughout the season. Three girls went on to place in the Northwest District meet.

Trojan Tide Tops Swim Field

Findlay swimmers left the district in their wake this year with a spectacular 14-1 record. St. Francis de Sales handed them their first loss in three years. But Findlay recovered admirably and went on to send eight swimmers to the state meet in Canton, Ohio. Senior Jeff Wobser placed first in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle and qualified him as All-American. He also became eligible for the AAU National meet. Jeff was the first FHS swimmer ever to earn this distinction. The boys were not the only outstanding portion of the team. Coach Rock Snow was classified as the winningest swimming coach in FHS history with over 77 victories in 7 years. Overall, the swimmers kept the season 'tide' together.

Trojan Nine Stranded in Regionals

What is an RBI? Or, what is an ERA? Well, if you belong to the diamondmen of FHS, you know exactly what is meant by these terms.

With rainy weather dominating the early part of the season, the team finished with an 11-8 record.

With a signal and a little chant from Coach Bob Wilczynski, the Trojans were able to put on any kind of play up against their opponent. The team was very succesful this year by reaching the regionals but it was there that they were stopped by New Philadelphia.

So the old saying of "who's on first, what's on second, and I don't know is on third, isn't applicable to our team since they are all superstars to our school.

MIDDLE ABOVE: Shannon Clark runs for first and on to second as if he made a home rum. MIDDLE RIGHT: Stu Bauman looks for the ball as he runs for the base. BELOW: Kelly Applegate throws a fast one towards third base.

Tennis Team Nets 10-4 Record

Forehand, backhand and lob may not be familiar to everyone, but to the guys on the tennis team, these are everyday words. Coached by Jim Hayes, the team diligently practiced at the Findlay Raquet Club three times a week. Practice does make perfect, because the Trojan netters made a record of 10-4.

Race to the Ribbon

Lots of determination and hard work was what kept the track team afloat this year. Their record of 4 wins and 3 losses was not what they had hoped for, but Coach John Didich's support and enthusiasm for winning didn't allow their school spirit to sink. However, the team placed 5th at the Findlay Relays.

Everyone agrees that track is a sport that requires team effort and each member is a valuable piece of that team effort. It is no wonder when all the pieces join together that the outcome is a team in which all Trojans can be proud.

Runners to your mark . . . get set . . . go! Though this year was slow in starting, the girls track team raced to a 8-3 record. First year coach, Mary Brater, put her best foot forward, and showed what a little determination and a lot of stamina will produce.

The Trojans always show sportsmanshiplike conduct at all times which makes this a team of winners.

Girl's Softball . . . Underhanded

"Strike three!" "You're out!" This is a common phrase heard behind our school but not necessarily against our team.

The Trojans practice so hard each night after school. The only thing that has hampered their practice is the miserable weather that our city had experienced this season.

A base hit, a home run, and an RBI are the most frequently heard words on the diamond.

"Great things are expected of next year's softball team. With two returning pitchers and some experienced sophomores, the team should improve very much on their 8-6 record," says Coach Wohlgamuth.

BELOW: Susanne Duncan belts in another base hit.

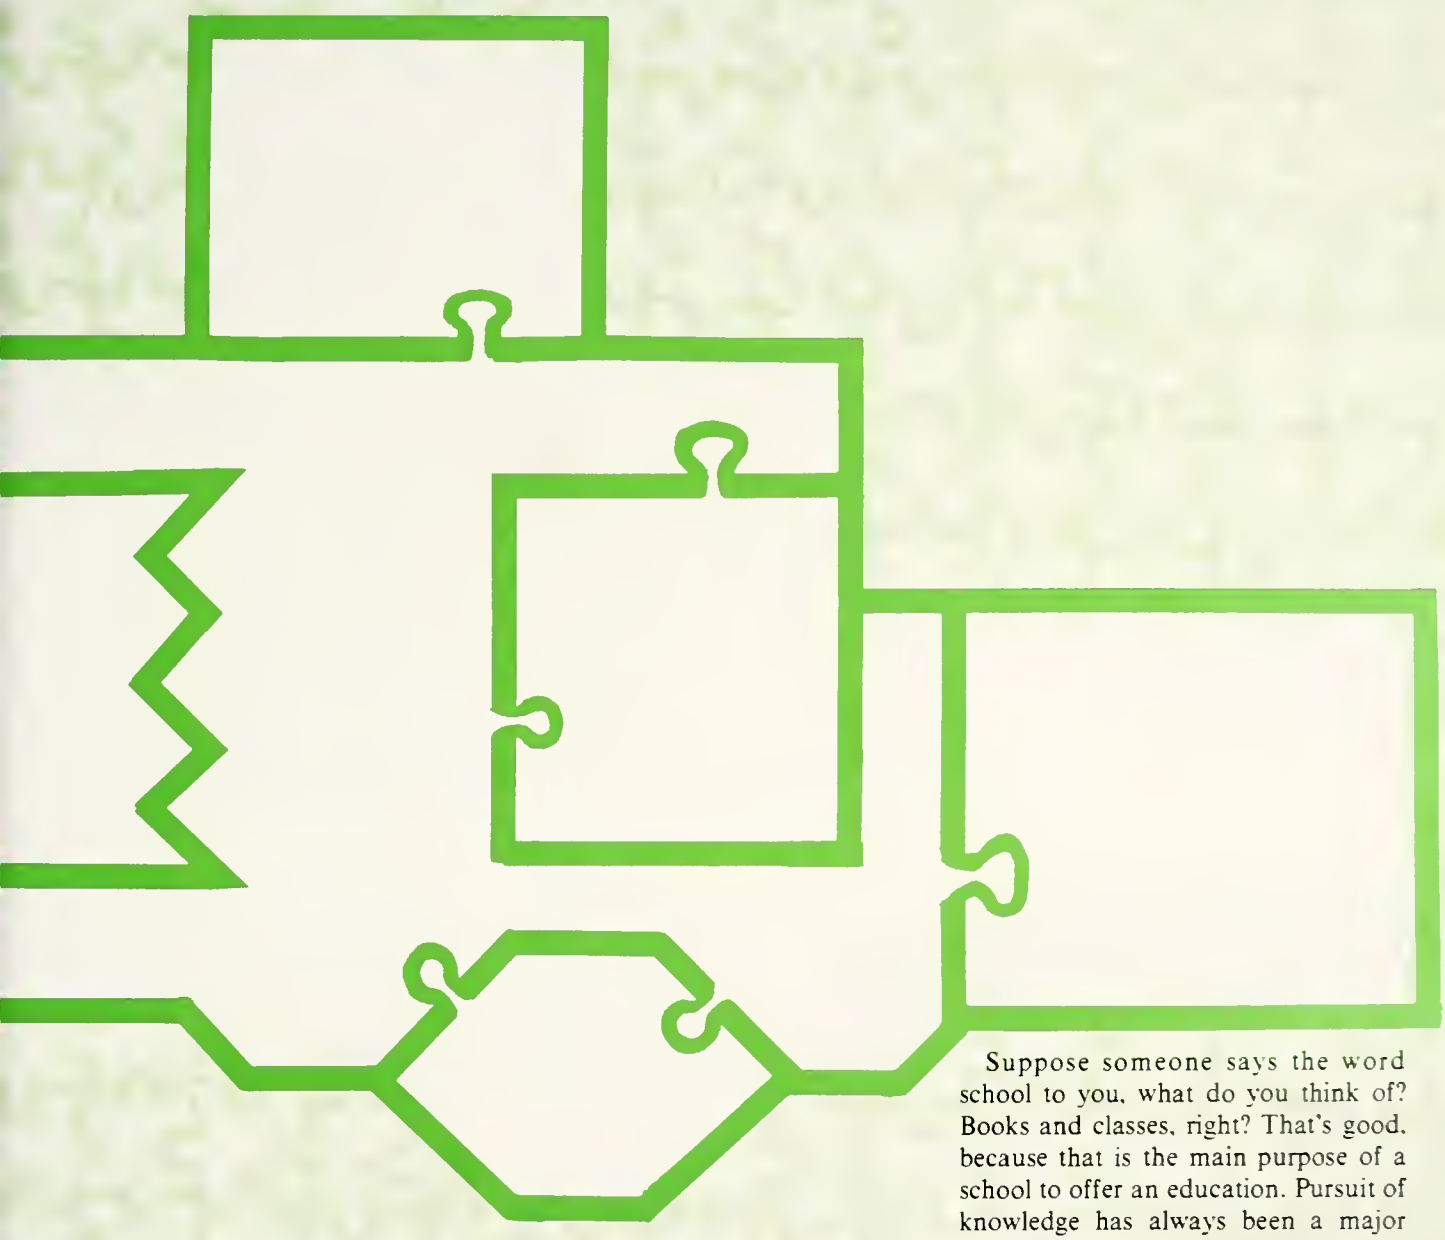
KNOWLEDGE



Suppose someone says the word school to you, what do you think of? Books and classes, right? That's good, because that is the main purpose of a school to offer an education. Pursuit of knowledge has always been a major part of civilization, just as it is the major part of FHS. Academics — the primary piece of the puzzle.

Creative Expression

It has often been said that a picture paints a thousand words. Also true is that a thousand words can paint a vivid picture. The English and Art departments recognize the increased need for the ability to express oneself and offer students a variety of ways to air their feelings through both the written word and created images. Painting and poetry, prose and pottery — all are found at FHS.

The English department covers the spectrum from Journalism and Creative Writing to Classics of the Western World and Contemporary Literature. Various levels of Art and Design are offered by the art department to develop students' creativity. Working on a potters wheel or designing jewelry are just a few expressions of creativity.

The Back-Bone of America

H_2O, $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$, $C_{12}H_{22}O_{11}$, $SIN^2 + \cos^2 = 1$ Formulas — In Math and Science. These equations seem to be all over. Whether you consider them an aid to learning or a pain to memorize, definitely depends on your point of view — teacher or student. Whether you like them or not, they're a fact of math-science life and most students manage to learn to live with them.

Getting Things Across

In our present day world getting ideas from one place to another is an integral part of life. Business people use such skills every day and it is the main function of the media. At FHS, courses are offered in business and communications to develop these abilities in students. They can study typing, shorthand, sales; and take part in any of several work study programs in the business department. And in the communication department, courses such as TV broadcasting, mass media and acting, can give a student the best training for future careers.

ABOVE: Business courses teach more than just typing and shorthand. Melanie Davenport experiments with make-up, as appearance is also important in the office.

Coping With a Changing World

Most people will agree that the world seems to be getting smaller and smaller all the time with new inventions and ideas popping up each day. The foreign language and social studies departments have been trying to keep up with our everchanging world. Understanding all of the history, culture, and events can sometimes be confusing but skills learned in courses like Economics and Sociology can help us understand them better and French, German, and Spanish can help us communicate that understanding.

BOVE: There are many tasty treats to be sampled Foreign Language night.

Practical Experience

Several courses at FHS offer practical experience to students. As far as working with the hands goes, some of the most direct experience comes from the trades and industry and cosmetology classes. At the extreme north end of the building in the industrial arts wing you'll find courses being offered in blueprint reading, electronics, carpentry and more. "Cosmo" students get a break from the building when they take a bus downtown to the State Beauty Academy to perfect their skills.

Home Ec Is Really Cooking

As we move into the 80's, it becomes very apparent that times have indeed changed. For example, a decade ago it was quite unusual to see a guy taking a home economics course. Now, however, quite a few are signing up — particularly for the gourmet foods class.

In home economics, boys and girls alike can have a try at some of the most practical skills taught at school which includes cooking foods from around the globe, designing and making clothes, planning room interiors and caring for youngsters.

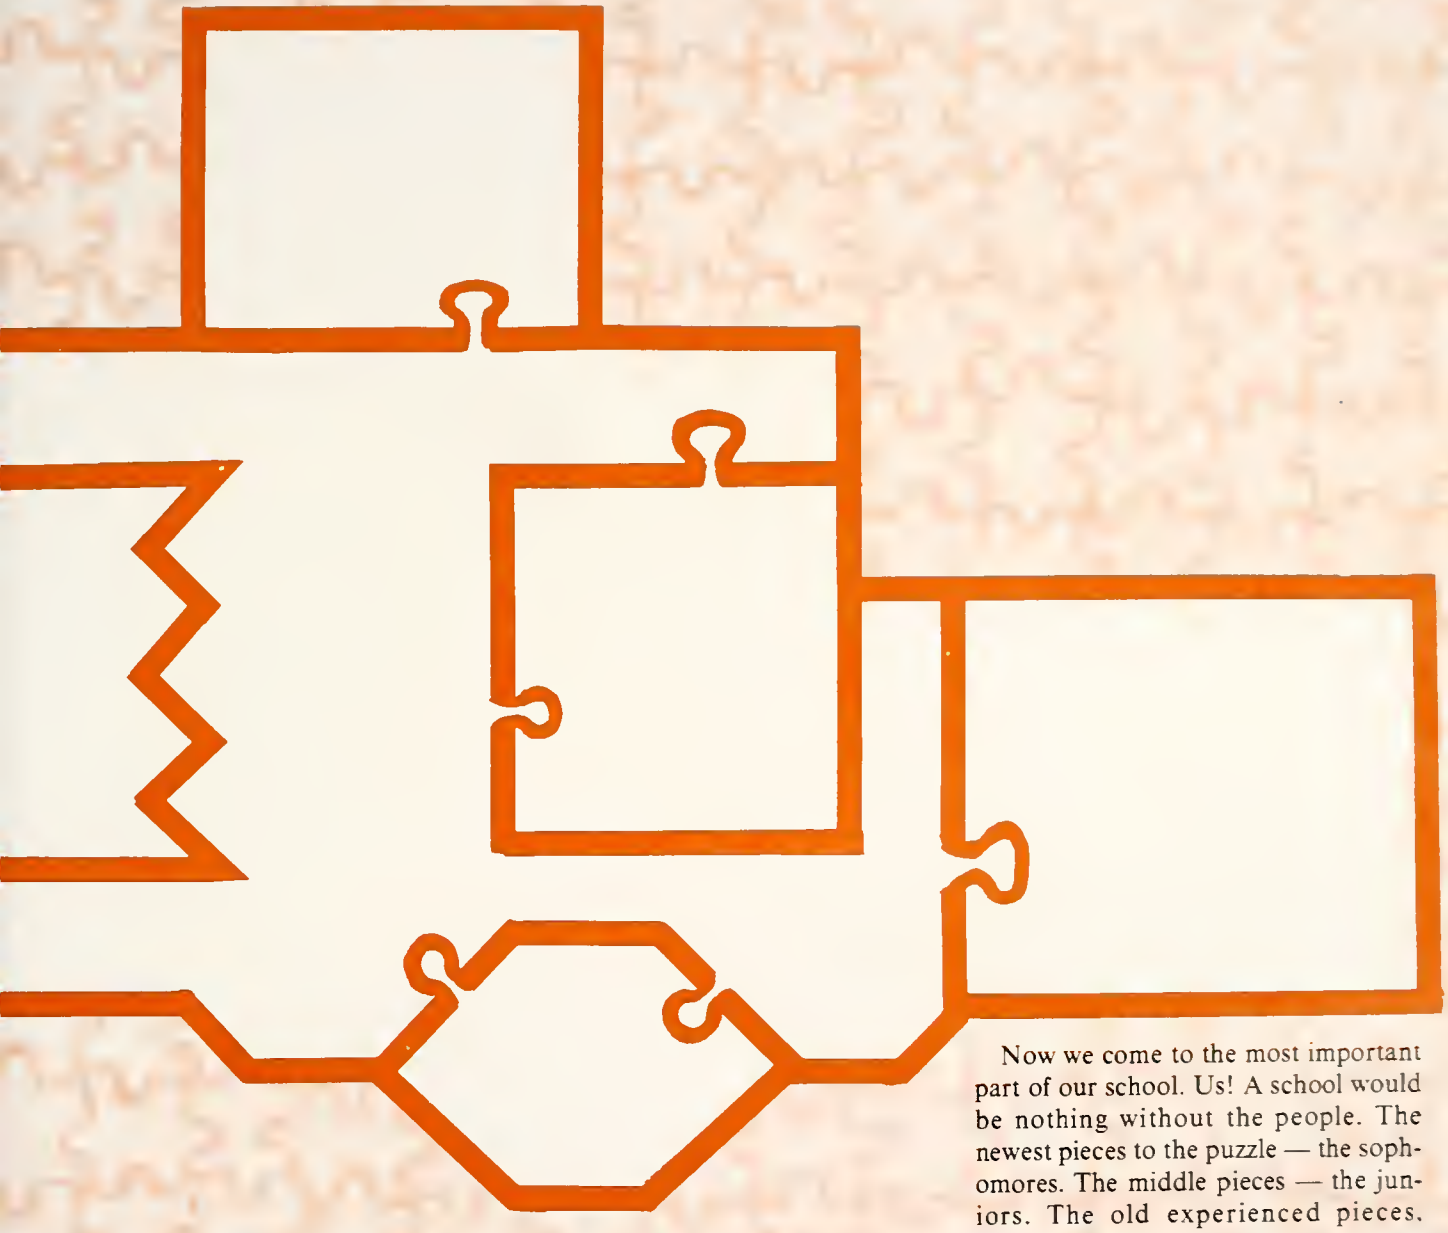
US



Now we come to the most important part of our school. Us! A school would be nothing without the people. The newest pieces to the puzzle — the sophomores. The middle pieces — the juniors. The old experienced pieces, spending their last year here (hopefully!) — the seniors. And finally a mixture of old and new — the administration and faculty. And all of these interlocking nice and neat.

Sophomores on Top

The sophomores are the newest members of the FHS puzzle. But just because they're new don't think that they don't know what's going on. The sophomores started out right on top by putting up posters and campaigning for student council offices. After the elections they stayed busy by building a float for the homecoming parade, decorating a hall for spirit week and helping with dance preparations. Later in the year they sold candles to earn money so that they can start out next year right on top.

A year of reform is what can be said about this year's junior class. Marked by weekly meetings and frequent sessions of the many committees, the members were kept busy making signs, organizing sales, scheming up ways to make money, publicizing and organizing dances, building a float, planning the prom and finally giving the prom for the seniors. The junior year, as some people say, is the hardest and busiest year in high school. For this class council, it's been the best one yet!

The Final Piece of a Students' Puzzle

The senior year is an important time in most students' lives because it is the last piece of their high school puzzle. ACT's, announcements, caps and gowns, and applications are some of the many things a senior has to think about.

But despite these many worries, the senior year is an exciting one. Homecoming, the winter formal, the last football and basketball games, and the prom are some things which a senior never forgets. All these lead up to the main thing on a senior's mind — graduation. With graduation the high school puzzle is completed, but another puzzle is just beginning, the puzzle of life as an adult.

Principal Becomes Supt. New FHS Principal Hired

Many changes took place after school let out last June. Dr. William Manuel, principal for three years at FHS became the superintendent of Findlay City Schools. This created a new piece for our puzzle. Robert Shamp, principal at Athens High School for eight years was hired and interlocked into our system.

When running a high school, the four principals seem to keep things running smoothly. Items dealing with faculty, students, counselors, and the community can be a worrisome job. But for our Sr. Principal, John Stozich; Jr. Principal, Margaret Gibson; Soph. Principal, Harold Gardner and Head Principal Robert Shamp, answers for problems are always found.

FHS is a comprehensive high school and in many minds it has been labeled as a "great" high school. A "great" high school doesn't just happen; it results from years of accomplishments in all areas — curricular and extracurricular by many who consider the goal worth the sacrifice, work, and commitment.

The Faculty — also an important piece to our puzzle — because teachers shape the minds of the younger set for the future. With the future to come, the years keep passing, teachers keep teaching, students keep graduating, the school years keep passing and our puzzle keeps growing.

England Becomes Home for Pinky Elsea

BELOW: The Whitley Bay Beach. RIGHT: Pinky found this to be a new and exciting experience to travel abroad.

Pinky Elsea, a senior, left Findlay in the late summer to become a resident of Whitley Bay, England. She attended Monkseaton High School in which she took music theory, French, history, geography and English Literature.

MIDDLE BELOW: This is Pinky's home.

Parlez-Vous Français: Mary Kay Sullivan Does

Mary Kay Sullivan left Findlay approximately the same time except her destination was Tours, France. She attended Balzas High School and took classes in physics, trigonometry, English, and French. She went to school 5½ days a week. She enjoyed sightseeing and trying new foods.

After the rain comes the rainbow,
After the storm, the sun,
And daylight breaks across the sky
After the night is done,
Life brings the sweet with the bitter,
Happier times follow tears,
Just as after the snows of winter,
The beauty of springtime appears!
Katherine Nelson Davis

There comes a time for all of us
When we must say good-bye
But faith and hope and love and trust
Can never, never die,
Although the curtain falls
at last
Is that a cause to grieve?
The future's fairer than the past
If only we believe
And trust in God's eternal care —
So when the Master calls
Let's say that life is still more fair
Although the curtain falls.

Too Quick to End

Too slow to start, too quick to end, not knowing which way each life would bend. Missed by good fortune, stricken by fate, turned away by heavens doorway. Welcomes by its gates. Not knowing how to love, nor when or why — and yet in loving life, we are willing to die. Our horizons widen, as our roads slowly narrow. Oh, too soon, to be struck by death's ungrateful arrow. Young minds filled with hatred, malice and hurt. Too soon to be buried in this land's bloodied dirt. Each day we welcome the young, and turn away the old. Not knowing how to give, parts of ourselves to others. Even though, all men in God's eyes are brothers. Hear me now I pray, heed the words I send, for lives are said: Too Slow to Start, and too Quick to End.

. . . And the Pieces Are Together

Finally the year is over. The halls and classrooms that were filled with life now stand silent. The gymnasium that held assemblies, basketball games and commencement exercises is idle. The 1979-1980 school year is no longer an expectation but a completed puzzle. All the pieces are together. None can be added and none taken away. Think about it. A completed puzzle, a year where nothing can be changed. It's all over.

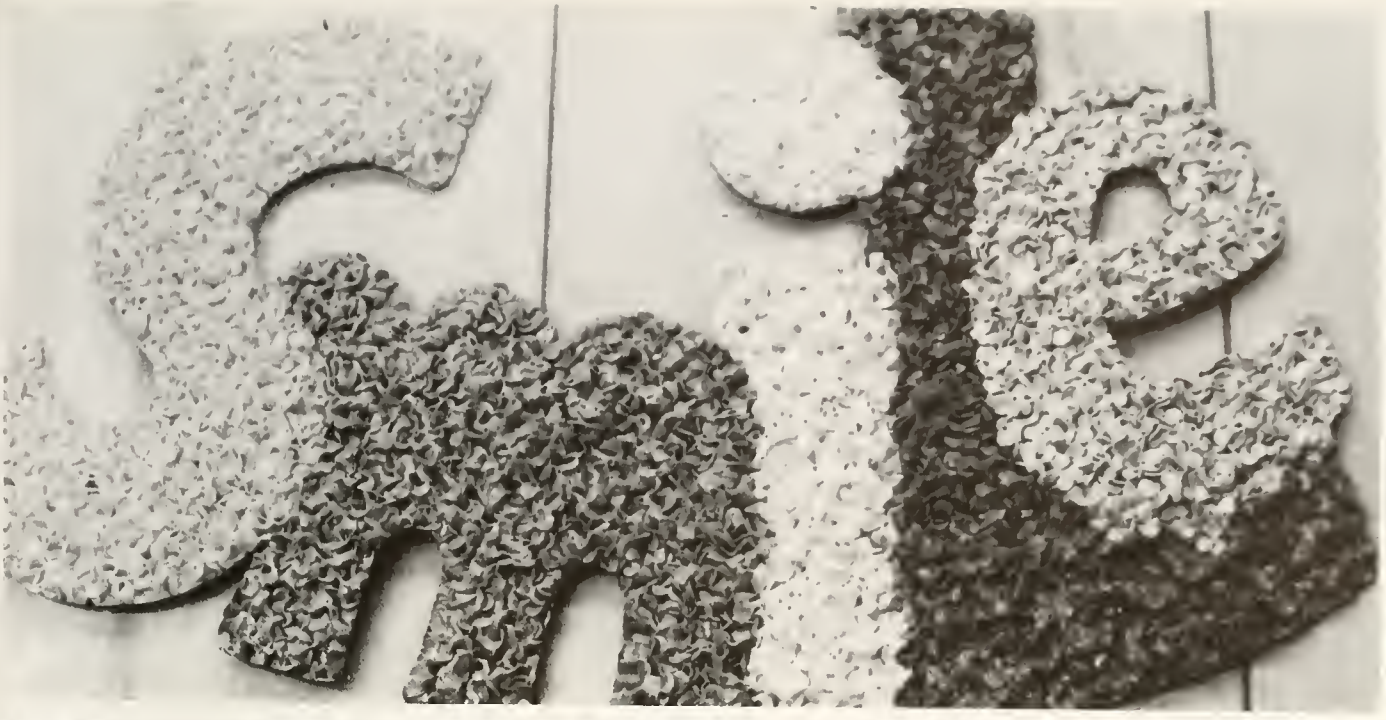
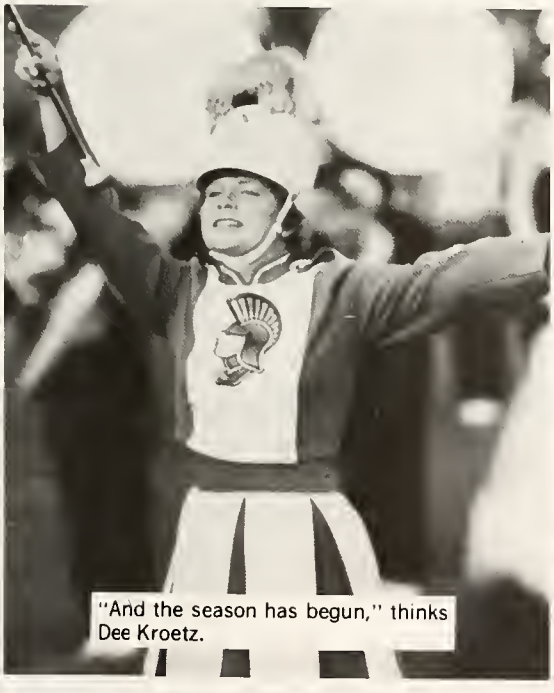
Standing still and silent.





"And the season has begun," thinks Dee Kroetz.

Or is it? Down in some small corner remains a piece that's unconnected. To this piece is added the 1980-81 school year. Everything may seem completed but actually the pieces are still falling together.

The deadlines have come right down to the wire, and the 1980 yearbook is completed. It doesn't seem possible that the year can be over so soon. The pieces of our book certainly did fall together quickly. At times it seemed more like they were falling apart but somehow we managed to get everything to connect. I don't know whether it was divine guidance or plain luck but whatever the cause I'm glad it turned out the way it did. I think we have a super book and I hope you enjoy reliving the 1979-80 school year as much as I did recording it.

With all the work that goes into a yearbook there is no way that it can be a one person job. The book would not have been possible without the help of some very talented people and it would not be fitting to let the year go by without telling them how invaluable their help has been and how much it has been appreciated. Thank you Brad Baker for the terrific endsheet artistry. Dave Heitzman of H. A. Powell Studios, thank you for your excellent job of photography. To our Taylor reps., Steve White and Tom Kiess, thank you for tolerating our somewhat impractical ideas and helping us to get workable ideas on paper. To the staff and yearbook advisers, Jerrene Ackerman and Jim Hayes, thank you, thank you, thank you. Without your guidance and so many hours of your time the book could not possibly have turned out so well. I would also like to thank my family for putting up with late dinners and me not spending very much time at home. Mom and Dad, thanks for your love and support. One last person I would like to thank is Lisa Masulovich. I know that without her numerous hours in the yearbook office getting things done and without her there to keep my spirits up when things got rough the book may have become more of a burden than the fun experience that it really was. Thank you students of FHS for making this year such an exciting one to record. Enjoy.
